

A Review of the Annual Meeting 2009

It Takes a Village - Toolkits for Care Management

Program Overview

Trans-professional cooperation and collaboration are essential for effective practice to enhance successful aging and promote quality of life for older adults. This conference will provide participants the opportunity to explore innovative tools and research designed to enhance skills in care management and workforce development for Gerontology and Geriatric faculty, students, health care and social services professionals.

Program Objectives

At the completion of this program, participants will be able to:

- Identify tools for effective health promotion
- Integrate legislative tools into education and practice
- Discuss tools to enhance gerontology/geriatric education
- Develop tools to enhance employment opportunities
